There are various contentions for my stance. The most prevalent one is that Topic can not only contribute to Doing something, but also lead to numerous other advantages in various fields. With its wide scope, not only can one benefit more when it comes to being effective, but they can also thrive and excel in varied areas, with much ease, efficacy and comfort. In a nutshell, (the Topic / using the Topic) stands one in a preponderant position, when it comes to enlarging their odds of success and perfection.

However, there are a few people believing that some aspects as discussed below, can without a doubt overpower the potential merits of the Topic. The cardinal point is that thanks to its repercussions, it is not only people but also a society which can suffer immensely. Besides, the impact of (something / Topic or drawback of the Topic) on something is far-reaching. Henceforth, it is clear why many are against the Topic.

To conclude the eloquently written contentions, one can say that regardless of certain downsides the benefits of the Topic are indeed overwhelming and thus cannot be ignored.

➤ For Problem – Solution:

One of the most prominent patterns of the present world is a colossal upsurge in the problem of Topic, throughout the world. There are a wide scope of variables that represent why this is going on. As I would like to think, this issue can be remedied given that some viable measures are taken.

There are a horde of (reasons responsible for) / (results related with) this soaring concern. In contrast to ordinary issues, which can be managed effectively, Topic, which is very perilous can prompt a variety of such issues as ____ and _____. On account of the previously mentioned difficulties, it is not only people but also a society which can suffer immensely.

Steps to manage this issue are many, yet the best ones are in truth not remote or convoluted but rather available and practicable. The essential one stems from the fact that by guaranteeing the usage of set guidelines and strategies, government authorities can enable a country to flourish. Moreover, international organizations and local authorities should take the necessary initiatives cumulatively. Only when concurrent endeavors from all divisions are guaranteed, would we be able to see some extensive improvement in solving the issue.

Hence, by looking at the aforementioned discussion, one can presume that the issue that has originated from Topic can be effectively remedied if the above-mentioned measures are taken. However, its destructive impacts are without a doubt too grave and thus cannot be ignored.
